HISTORY AND PROGRESS

MACOMB COUNTY HISTORY

Named in honor of General Alexander Macomb, a highly decorated veteran of the War of 1812, Macomb County was formally organized on January 15, 1818 as the third county in the Michigan territory. At that time, it covered a much larger area than it does today. In 1819 and 1820, large portions of the county were removed to form the counties of Oakland, Lapeer, Genesee and St. Clair.

The first Europeans arrived in the area during the 17th century. They included French fur trappers who recognized the richness of the marshes and sought new opportunities for trade. Moravian missionaries established the first organized, non-native settlement in the county in 1782 as a refuge for Christianized Indians driven out of Ohio. They built along the banks of the Clinton River, then known as the Huron River, but were forced to leave four years later by the Chippewa Indians. In the late 1790s, Christian Clemens visited the area, and in March 1800, purchased a distillery considered the first building on the site of the future Mount Clemens. The next year he purchased 500 acres for development. This site, known as High Banks, was platted as the Village of Mount Clemens in 1818, when it was proclaimed the Macomb County Seat.

In the early 1800s, settlers moved into the interior of the county, carving out farms from the hardwood forests. The roots of the county villages and townships were established by this time. In addition to the original French and English, later settlers included Germans, Belgians and others who came directly from Europe.

In the 1870s, mineral baths brought international fame to Mount Clemens. Many believed the waters had healing powers. Although the stream still runs beneath the city, interest in the spas died out in the early 20th century. Recently, there has been a reemergence of interest in the mineral baths now being offered at Henry Ford Macomb-East Campus in Mount Clemens.

Between 1920 and 1930, Macomb County doubled in population, rising from 38,103 to 77,146 persons. Two significant developments spurred this growth – the establishment of Selfridge Field in 1917, and the beginning of the urbanization movement northward from the City of Detroit.

Construction of the first County building began in 1931. Plans were submitted for the 12-story, limestone-clad building by architect George J. Haas of St. Clair Shores. The winning bid went to the Otto Misch Company and a crew of 75 men (mainly Macomb County residents) worked tirelessly around the clock to bring the new building to life.

Notable design elements of the "Old County Building" include the iconic architectural ornaments of eight stone faces chosen specifically in tribute to nearby Selfridge Field and paying homage to the county's history. Designed by native Detroiter, architectural sculptor Louis Sielaff, the faces chosen to gaze from the roofline include a soldier, sailor, airman (pre-Air Force), Marine (WWI Doughboy), two Native Americans, and two Revolutionary War soldiers. Sielaff's creations were fabricated from granite and have stood guard atop the county building for over 90 years.

Macomb County's population continued to grow during the 1940s and 1950s when movement from the central city to the suburbs increased. The largest growth occurred between 1950 and 1970, when over 440,000 people were added to Macomb County's population.

Today, Macomb County encompasses 482 square miles, and ranks third in population in the state, with a 2020 census population of 881,217 persons.

MACOMB COUNTY EMBLEM

Dominating the emblem of Macomb County is the county outline, flanked by a sailboat and three gears in representation of the area's recreation and industry. The banner crossing through the symbol contains three triskelions, an age-old symbol, representing progress. Encircling the emblem are the words "Macomb County" and "Michigan," separated by five-pointed stars as symbols of quality.

COMMISSION PROGRAMS

Casual Day Program

The Board of Commissioners proudly coordinates the Macomb County Casual Day Charitable Collections Program. With department leader permission, participating employees may wear casual clothing to work on Fridays/designated days if they donate at least one dollar.

The Casual Day program was first adopted by resolution of the Board of Commissioners in 1994 and it has continued to grow thanks to Macomb County employees' commitment to helping others. Since the program's inception, nearly $720,000 has been generously donated to various charities.

Green Schools Program

Established in 2006, the Michigan Green Schools program is open to any K-12 public or private school in Michigan. The intent of the Program is to encourage students to participate in activities which help them learn about preserving natural resources, protecting the environment and promoting energy efficiency and savings. Any K-12, public or private school in Michigan may apply to be designated an "Official Michigan Green School" by submitting an application documenting activities to the designated county coordinator of the program. Qualified activities in which the school participates earn points toward achieving Official Green School status. The Commission has been the coordinator of the Macomb County Green Schools Program since 2008. Annually, near Earth Day, the Commission honors the participating schools at a ceremony.

This award aims to express the deep appreciation that exists for the selfless contributions veterans have made toward not only serving and protecting our country, but through work within the veteran community. In 2019, following the selection of the first Macomb County Veteran of the Year, the Commission unanimously voted to rename it in honor of Pat Daniels, the first recipient of this award.

Student Government Day

Held annually, this program provides our community's youth the opportunity to learn the purpose and mechanics of county-level government and be able to participate in a way to further their understanding of how local government works. As a result, students become more informed and involved citizens and voters. To attend, students are required to write an essay on a topic chosen by the Commission. Commissioners choose their favorite essay and that student is awarded a $1,000 scholarship. The Commission especially thanks Advancing Macomb for sponsoring this program and providing the scholarship.

Through different sessions and presentations, officials from the state's three most populous counties explore ways to collaborate as a region. This recurring, regional event is attended by top elected and other public officials, as well as key representatives of the business community.

The Brownfield Redevelopment Authority promotes the revitalization of environmentally distressed areas, either by providing incentives for developers to clean up contaminated or functionally obsolete property, or by receiving grants to perform the clean up before a development is involved, or a combination of the two. A Brownfield Redevelopment Authority may use Tax Increment Financing as a tool for property redevelopment. An authority may: 1) capture increases in property tax revenues generated by the redevelopment of eligible properties to reimburse parties for costs of eligible development activities and 2) use captured revenues to finance a local remediation revolving fund to address other eligible sites.
